

POINTE MOUILLEE WATERFOWL FESTIVAL

September 17th & 18th, 2022

Come and See What Everyone is Talking About! Pointe Mouillee

(pronounced "Point Moo-Yay") is a spit of land that jets into Lake Erie near the mouth of the Huron River. Pointe Mouillee is one of the largest freshwater marsh restoration projects in the world - the result of a gigantic earth-moving/dike-building project that consists of wetland, diked marshes and river bayous.

Pointe Mouillee Waterfowl Festival needs your help to preserve the Pointe Mouillee Marsh restoration. With your support we can work together to protect the state's most critical waterfowl habitats and major hub in the Detroit River International Wildlife Refuge. Let's Inspire future generations to continue our mission by supporting the Waterfowl Festival.
